

Aomori Contemporary Art Centre, Aomori Public University
Artist in Residence Program 2016 / Autumn
“kaetemiru--Time For A Change”

Application Guidelines

[1] Purpose of the Program

The Aomori Contemporary Art Centre (ACAC), Aomori Public University opened in December 2001 as an artistic institution centered on an 'Artist in Residence' (AIR) program. We invite to our facility artists who play an active part in the field of contemporary art. During the residency period, we hold an exhibition and various exchange programs to contribute to the creative life. Through creative activities, presentations, workshops, and lectures by the artist, the aim of the program is to help the audience gain a deeper understanding of art and to promote international exchange.

Therefore, on this AIR program, our aim is not only to support the artist whilst he creates his /her work, but also to use the program as a tool with which to educate the local audience about art. Through the encounters and the interaction between the artists and people in Aomori a new creative space will be born.

[2] Program Title: Time For A Change

The world spreads out before us. We discover some sort of order within it, and through thought, we create systems and frameworks and modify them to make sense of our world. These systems may seem unchangeable when one is within them, yet they can transform significantly depending on time and place.

Even within the same paradigm, one small break with convention can be enough to alter people's perceptions. The work of the artist is just that: to rethink the mundane events that surround us, to reset the configurations and reframe them with a change in perspective. Their re-imaginings are often the impetus for subtle shifts in perception.

The Artist in Residence (AIR) Program itself, which by definition has artists living and working in a temporary environment, may effect some kind of change in the lives and work of the artists, as well as the lives of the people who experience their artwork. For the Autumn 2016 AIR Program, we invite artists who feel it is "time for a change," whatever that change may be.
